Boards Discuss Question Of Consolidated School

A meeting of representatives of the Blairmore school districts was held at the schoolhouse last night, when the matter of a consolidated high school for the Pass was considered. Mr. Campbell, director of technical education, was present and addressed the meeting, setting forth the advantages to be derived from the establishment of such an institution. Figures were submitted showing the probable cost of operation and initial expenses, and the saving that would result were the higher grades removed to the new consolidation. It was estimated that a building costing between $50,000 and $70,000 would be necessary, and that the cost of maintenance to be met by the districts affected would aggregate annually about $50,000. From this amount would be deducted government grants totalling several thousands of dollars. Figures showed that the new school would cost a saving of approximately $1000 to schools now conducting high grade work. The probable rate of taxation annually would not exceed .35 mills, which is very light on an assessment value of three and three-quarter millions.

Mr. Green, representing the West Canadian Collieries, addressed the meeting, and on behalf of his company, submitted a proposal to grant a free site (all the land required—acres, if necessary) a cash bonus of at least $2000, to take up debentures at a six per cent rate, and to assist in any other way that would help towards the establishment of such an institution and the carrying on of a work which The Pass has so long been sorely in need of.

A motion was passed, that delegates present take up the question with their respective boards and submit the matter to the ratepayers of their districts, and that public meetings be called at different dates in the several districts, at which Mr. Campbell, Mr. Hodgson and others interested and posted in technical education would be invited to be present. Mr. Hamilton acted as chairman of the meeting, and Mr. Conway as secretary. Those present included: A. Hamilton, J. O. C. McDonald, Joseph Robertson, James G. Ewan, J. McPhail, W. H. Chappell, J. E. Gillis, H. Baskin, W. Andrews, Isaac Green, F. Wright, W. J. Bartlett, J. Dault, W. B. Ward, Inspector Lazere, Rev. H. Peters, James Ford, J. B. Harmer, and Principal Conway and Powell.

Pincher Creek Sports Day

Citizens of Pincher Creek are planning on a gala day for July 1st, and have contracted with the McCall Aero Co., of Calgary, for an exhibition flight from Calgary, arriving at Pincher Creek at 10.30 in the morning. They will carry passengers for short flights at $15 per trip and will give stunts twice during the day. The Curling Club is in charge of everything—sports, horse racing, games, and also a big dance at night. This club is comprised of all the business men in town, which insures everyone attending a real good time. It is also hoped to have at least one baseball team from The Pass. Don't forget July the 1st at Pincher Creek.

Mrs. Antonio Poggiali was, before Justice Gresham and Morrison, on Tuesday, convicted of obstructing public officers in the discharge of their duties, and was fined $75 and costs. Similar charge against Antonio Poggiali and Steve Basso were dismissed. M. H. Putman prosecuted, while J. E. Gillis represented the accused. Mrs. Poggiali paid the piper rather than spend a couple of months in jail at Fort Saskatchewan.

Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Toronto, will address a public meeting at the Union church on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock. Dr. Thomas is one of the foremost platform orators in Canada today and should be greeted by a large audience, as the subject will be an important one.

"Ma, do cows and bees go to heaven?"
"Mersey, child, what a question! Why?"
"Cause if they don't, the milk and honey the preacher said was up there must be all canned stuff."

Salvation Army Self Denial Effort

Those interested in the above effort will be glad to know that the target set for the Coleman Circle—Corps—which includes Blairmore, Frank, Bellevue and Hillcrest—has been smashed. The sum of $215 having been sent into headquarters of this amount, the different towns contributed approximately as follows: Blairmore $85, Blairmore $65, Bellevue $40 and Hillcrest $25. In view of the recent strikes and lockouts, the amount raised is considered to be very gratifying and the collectors wish to thank heartily all who contributed to this successful result.

This money is raised for the purpose of maintaining and extending the Salvation Army work in heathen lands and in a few places in the home land where the corps are not self-supporting. Of recent months, many urgent appeals for the Army to open up work in new fields in different parts of the world have reached international headquarters. This money will help General Booth to give a positive answer to these calls and thus to study the needs.

The officers newly appointed to this district are anxious to increase the circulation of the Army's newspaper—"The War Cry." A new edition of this paper has just come into existence, known as the "War Cry for Canada West." It is printed in Winnipeg and while giving news items of the Army's deliberations throughout the world, the main part of the news concerns the progress that the Army is making west of the Great Lakes. All friends of the Army should secure a copy weekly. The cost is 5 cents. Those wishing to have the War Cry delivered to their home should drop a line to Capt. F. Capon, Box 232, Coleman, giving direction as to the situation of their residence.

The following are figures of the Salvation Army throughout the world and why they need assistance.
Countries and Colonies 96; Languages in which we preach 41; Day Schools in heathen lands 638; Missions 2,500; Hospitals and Dispensaries 28; Rescue Homes 126; Maternity Homes 33; Corps and Outposts 9,896; Children's Homes and Orphanages 84; Officers, Cadets and Employees 23,714; Local Officers (Unpaid) 64,527; Bandmen 28,747; Songmen 21,614; Naval and Military Hospitals 19; Nurses and First Aid 107; Monthly Supplies 14,941,957; Beds supplied to Men and Women 7,838,702; Hotels for Working People 175; Ex-Criminals Released 2 months 2,863; Pauper children 2,273; Social Institutions 1,219; Periodicals Published 80; Copies per issue 1,286,235.

Council Proposes To Install Concrete Walks

The regular meeting of the town Council was held on Thursday night last, a full council being present. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read, and several accounts were passed for payment.

Petitions were received from S. Novarick and the Union church board, the former for permission to make use of a standing wall of a building recently gutted by fire, and the latter for the installation of a light at or near the Union church. Both were promised to be attended to.

By-law No. 66 was introduced and received two readings, and the secretary was instructed to submit same to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners for their consideration. This by-law, which appears elsewhere in this issue, is to provide for the raising of a sum of money for the purpose of installing concrete sidewalks down the north side of Victoria Street from Fifth to Ninth Avenues. An estimate of the probable cost was submitted to the council and it was thought advisable to go ahead if money could be raised at this time for such purpose.

Duncan J. Campbell, one of the old timers and best known residents of Southern Alberta, died at his residence, Macleod, yesterday, after but a brief illness. Mr. Campbell was 66 years of age and a native of St. Hilare, Quebec. His eldest son, Duncan John, was killed in action Mrs. Campbell, two sons and one daughter survive.

It's not always the squarrest men that are in the best circles.

On Our Western Farms

Announcement by the Canadian Wheat Board that the wheat participation certificates issued by it to the farmers will, it is estimated, be worth not less than forty cents a bushel came as a welcome surprise to the wheat growers of the country. People who have followed the operations of the Board were confident that these certificates would prove of real and substantial value, but they hardly expected a forty-cent per bushel value. This sum, added to the initial payment on the basis of $215 for No. 1 Northern at Fort William, brings for the Canadian fixed price well above the guaranteed minimum price in the U. S., and it is believed by many that in the final out-turn the average price received by Canadian farmers will be equal to the average received by the United States farmers.

The announcement means that when final settlement is made with the farmers for their 1919 wheat crop a distribution of something like $75,000,000 will take place. The three prairie provinces will, of course, receive the bulk of this large sum. It will mean much to our farmers, will give an added impetus to production throughout the West, and provides a strong argument for a continuance of the policy of national marketing of wheat, at least so long as the European importing countries maintain partial buying and selling. Those farmers who followed the advice tendered in this column last year to retain possession of their participation certificates, and not dispose of them to speculators for a nominal sum at a time when their value was problematical have good reason to congratulate themselves.

At no less than three different conferences to be held this summer the problem occasioned by successive crop failures in the drought affected areas of the West will receive careful consideration, with the object of endeavoring to ascertain the best methods whereby this disability may be overcome. One such conference, to be attended by officials of each of the provincial Departments of Agriculture of the prairie provinces, will be held in Winnipeg, July 14 to 18, under the auspices of the Canadian Commission of Conservation. A second conference, to be attended by experts and farmers who have succeeded in the dry areas when most of their neighbors have failed, will be held in Saskatchewan under the auspices of the provincial Department of Agriculture and the provincial College of Agriculture. The subject will also be considered at the land settlement conference to be held in Regina from June 8 to 11, at which there will be present representatives of the four Western provinces, the Dominion government, and it is announced, "many of the greatest experts of the North American continent on the subject of suitable plants for dry areas."

It is known that in many of the so-called dry districts where crop failures are general, certain farmers succeeded in harvesting fairly profitable crops. It is proposed to invite these men to attend one or more of these conferences and recite their experiences, outlining their methods of farming and the nature of the crops grown by them, and then to disseminate this information among farmers generally in the districts referred to. All farmers who have succeeded where others have failed have a patriotic duty to perform in assisting these conferences by every means at their disposal in finding a solution of one of the greatest problems confronting the West.

Although it is yet early to hazard a guess as to the extent of the acreage to be seeded in Western Canada this year, it is probably quite safe to assume that the preliminary government estimates of a considerable decrease in acreage are correct. The late season has prevented much spring plowing, which will result in a decreased wheat acreage, but reports indicate that the seed is going into the ground well supplied with moisture and under satisfactory conditions, which only require suitable weather to yield a bountiful crop. At the same time a large decrease in the wheat crop of the United States is anticipated this year, there having been a heavy falling off in the winter wheat crop.

One result in the West will undoubtedly be a substantial increase in the acreage sown to oats and other coarse grains. This will have a beneficial effect, as the past few years have revealed a lamentable shortage of feed grains which has had an adverse effect owing to the rapid manner in which these western provinces are coming to the front in the production of livestock of all classes.

Many men and women become rundown and worn out when otherwise they would be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness. No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore normal healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used your second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done for me what I felt I could never do. I have had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and weakness and shortness of breath, and I could hardly come up at times when I was lying down. ### Automobile Industry For Alberta

New Car to be Manufactured by An Edmonton Concern

Alberta will shortly add another industry to the large number already under way, when an Edmonton-manufactured automobile will be put on the market. The machine is being constructed by the Western Foundry, Ltd., and will be one of the most up-to-date cars in every respect. The engine is said to be one of the finest on the market, and is in use in a great number of first class motors on the continent.

It is the intention of the western foundry to have the plant equipped for turning out a large number of these new cars, and that some of the tests being carried out showing that it is possible to produce an excellent machine in Edmonton and place it on the market with every hope of successful competition with the cars manufactured in large eastern centres.

He Had Met Him

The premier of South Africa, Gen. Smuts, is a hard worker and thoroughly unaffected. Consequently, says the Times, he has a great deal to say.

"Let me see," said a high and mighty young officer who sat next to him at a reception in London shortly after the Boer war, "haven't we—ah—met somewhere?"

"Yes," replied the General, adding with a bored air, "One meets so many people! Let me see, where did we meet?"

"In South Africa," retorted the general curiously. "You surrendered to me during the war."

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it cannot be kept healthy. The bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are absolutely safe and never irritate; relieve constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fever. Concerning them Mrs. Jules Gagnereau, Nonington, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated and suffered day and night. I was advised to give him Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they helped him and now the age of thirteen months he is a big, healthy, happy boy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

British Tidal Power Scheme

Generate Electric Power From The Tidal Waters

The Ministry of Transport in Great Britain is giving careful attention to the possibility of building a dam across the estuary of the Severn in order to generate electric power from the tidal waters. The ministry has also formed a strong committee to examine the ambitious schemes for electrification put forward by several British railway companies and to lay down principles which will lead to uniformity in electrical and mechanical matters so that through running will eventually be feasible.

Canadian Boats Shipping Grain

An interesting statement was made in the house of commons recently by Sir George E. Foster, acting premier regarding the total export of Canadian grains in Canadian ships as compared with the export in United States vessels. The minister stated that 99.55 percent of the wheat exported was carried in Canadian bottoms as well as 85.94 percent of export oats and 89.65 percent of barley.

Beautifying the Cities Of Saskatchewan

Many Saskatchewan Residents Planting Trees and Shrubs This Spring

This season has already seen an unprecedented demand on the part of the citizens of Saskatoon, for shrubbery and small trees for planting purposes, states the city gardener. These are under way in the city to cope with the greatly increased demand, and this year there will be more than 200,000 trees and shrubs planted at the city greeneries.

Cottages which are planted this year consist of poplar, honey-suckle, lilac and willows and judging from results on a small scale in the past, this will soon grow to a matter of primary interest in Saskatoon, where the love of beautiful homes has grown rapidly during the past year or two.

In addition to this the parks board has purchased large quantities of elm trees and caraganas, and these will be cultivated with special care, as well as distributed to the citizens who wish to purchase. They are being planted at the cost price, the aim of the board being to clear expenses and beautify the city at all events.

Settlers for Peace River

Trains Leaving Edmonton Crowded To Capacity With Best Type

According to J. D. McArthur, president of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Railway, the Peace River and Grand Prairie country is on the eve of a forward movement. In the course of a short interview, Mr. McArthur said: "The railway is at its wit's end to accommodate new settlers for this country. Trains leaving Edmonton are crowded to capacity with the best type of settlers. Four and five hundred people are packed on the train and it is impossible with our present equipment to cope with the question even of feeding them. If this tide of immigration continues, something must be done at once to relieve the congestion." Regarding the traffic prospects generally, Mr. McArthur said that they were never brighter. For over a year earnings had been over operating charges.

Research in Corrosion

Investigations Being Made by Strong Committee

At the recent congress of the British Institution of Metals a valuable report was read on the corrosion of condenser tubes—a subject in which so many engineers are keenly interested. This report was the fifth of a series, recording researches undertaken by a special committee of the institute. Experiments have been made with alloys of copper and zinc, and many suggestions have been advanced for reducing corrosion. In the British navy trials are being made with oxidized tubes, and a British company has been formed to exploit an electrolytic process which deposits and maintains a protective layer of lime on the surface of the tube.

No Contract Breaker

Foundations of Free Government Tested and Not Found Wanting

Trades unionism in the United States and Canada has fought a good fight with anarchy within its own ranks and proved that labor will keep its contracts.

A light arises amid all the darkening signs of the times. That light shines out of the collapse of the out-law strikes on the American railways, and the fate of the same variety of printers' strike in the Montreal office. The foundations of free government were tested and not found wanting in an industrial crisis. Labor proved its power to produce and follow a leadership of honor and self-interest.—Toronto Telegram.

Reviewing Australia's Fleet

Prince of Wales Will Review Something Like 30 Warships

The Prince of Wales and the Australian "Digger" are old friends. They shared the mud of flanders and the trenches of France, but the Prince and the Australian "Blue Jacket" have yet to gain the same friendly understanding. When the royal guest reaches Melbourne he will be given an opportunity of seeing the remarkable growth of Australia's fleet, for he will review something like 30 warships in Port Phillip Bay. Probably the contrast between the huge Renown and the war-worn battle cruiser Australia will serve to point a lesson already emphasized by Lord Jellicoe—that the day of the great battleship is still with us. One thing the Prince will not hear—the customary salute of 21 guns; out of deference to the men recovering from shell-shock.

May Discuss Anglo-Japanese Alliance Question

London.—The question whether there is to be a continuance of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is being brought before the British public by the presence of W. A. Watt, treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth in England. Mr. Watt arrived in London this week and has given out a number of interviews in which he has made closer co-operation between Great Britain and her dominions with regard to foreign policies, and emphasized Australia's determination to remain a "white man's country." At a dinner given in his honor which was attended by the Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonies, and numerous other men in public life, Mr. Watt in an address said:

"The dominant thought in our minds has been that in southwestern Asia live eight hundred million colored people, and the Australian people say that whatever can be done to keep our country for the British and their children should be done. We know that we could not repel an assault by the great yellow or the brown nations, but we believe that in the fulness of time the statesmen of the empire will understand our attitude and assist us to enforce it. "If there are conversations in the near future between the empire of the Mikado and the British government, the Australian people want their views registered before the representative thinkers of the empire."

Funeral of Princess

Prince Arthur of Connaught was present at funeral of his sister at Stockholm.

Stockholm.—The kings of Norway and Denmark, Prince Arthur of Connaught, the Earl of Onslow, representing the King of England, and the diplomatic corps of other countries attended the funeral services of the late crown princess Gustav Adolph of Sweden.

Thousands of crowds were massed along the flower-strewn route from the royal castle. The procession started shortly after 2 o'clock to the cathedral where the service was conducted by the Archbishop of Upsal, and a British chaplain.

Serious Shortage of Farm Labor Winnipeg.—Only about 40 percent of Manitoba's wheat lands can be worked this season unless there is a marked increase in the number of the people willing to go to work on farms during the next few weeks, Manitoba farmers say.

According to T. J. Mather of the Dominion employment bureau, the situations left vacant during the last week in nearly three times the number of applicants placed.

Carrazza Said to be Surrounded El Paso, Texas.—President Carranza, of Mexico, is surrounded and in desperate straits at Rinconada, near Esperanza station, in the state of Puebla, according to a telegram from General Alvaro Obregón, received by Robert V. Pezalla, financial agent for the revolutionists here.

Frame New Plans Which May Restore Order in Ireland

London.—General Sir Neville Macready, military commander of Ireland, has framed new plans by which he believes better order will be established in Ireland shortly. Mr. Bonar Law announced in the house of commons that the plans had been approved by the cabinet.

The government leader's statement followed questions regarding the sensational murder of two policemen at Cork, and whether General Macready had taken steps to co-ordinate with the police and the military forces.

Mr. Bonar Law said that the military commander had already taken most important steps, and at a cabinet

Police Inspector to Stand Trial

Judge Refused to Dismiss Charge For Failing to Suppress Unsubstantiated

New York.—Judge Malone, in the court of general sessions, denied a motion to dismiss the charge against Police Inspector Dominick Henry, formerly commander of the "Cendering" charged with neglect of duty in New York's vice war by failing to suppress unsubstantiated in his district. The lawyer for the defence declared that there was no regular immoral establishments in the district. The men and women who went there for immoral purposes could not be legally raided by the police.

"Why there were 10,000 offences being committed this very hour," he said.

Premier Borden Returns

Has His Old Vigor and Declares He Is Now in Perfect Health

Ottawa.—Bronzed and apparently in excellent health, Sir Robert Borden has arrived in Ottawa. Sir Robert showed no traces of the illness which had necessitated his five months' absence. He had the old vigor and to all queries he smilingly replied that his health was of the best. His arrival was the occasion of a celebration by his supporters. Headed by Sir George Foster and members of the cabinet, they gathered on the platform to welcome him back to Ottawa. As Sir Robert and Lady Borden stepped off the car there was a round of cheering. On the platform with the Unionists was Dr. Clark, member for Red Deer, and prominent in the National Progressive party. It was Dr. Clark's birthday. Sir Robert and he laughingly congratulated each other.

"You look younger than I do," Dr. Clark observed.

Anonymous Gift to Britain For War Debt

London.—Chancellor of the Exchequer, Austen Chamberlain, announced that he has received an anonymous gift of $100,000 of the war loan for cancellation and as a contribution to the reduction of the national debt. The donor, explains Mr. Chamberlain, says that he denied the privilege of fighting for his country and that he desired to encourage other persons to similar patriotic action.

Messenger Sent From London to New York

Boy Takes Long Journey to Deliver Message to N.Y. Music Publisher

New York.—A 12-year-old London messenger boy arrived on the Carmania today carrying several letters for members of the city administration here and also a letter from Sir Arthur Pearson to Frank A. Munsey. His chief business was to deliver a contract from a London music publisher who wished to beat a business rival who had mailed a contract to the United States.

On board the Carmania also, was a British mission headed by Sir Herbert W. Abell, with Lady Abell and Sir Herbert Rowell. They are on their way to confer with the department of commerce in Washington, regarding "commercial transactions."

Huge Deficit of C.N.R.

Report of Earnings and Expenses for Past Year Tabled in The House

Ottawa.—Gross earnings of the Canadian Northern railway for the year ended December 31, 1919, were $53,562,177.57, according to the fifth annual report of the directors tabled in the house by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways.

These were derived as follows: From passenger traffic, $10,775,084.46; from freight traffic, $39,175,555.00; express, mail and telegraph, $1,538,902.18; miscellaneous, $3,337,014.81.

In addition, there were interest and other subsidiary companies that contributed to the balance. Working expenses amounted to $60,034,023.92, and hire of equipment, taxes, rentals, and miscellaneous operations, $1,020,553.61, making the total expenses $61,054,577.53. The deficit was $5,700,647.70, and interest charges, $19,969,710.36, a total deficit of $25,670,358.06.

The directors call attention to the fact that the report covers only the operation of Canadian Northern railway lines. The total mileage operated at the end of the year was 9,685.7, compared with 9,566.5 at the end of 1918, being an increase of 119.2 miles. The average mileage in operation throughout the country was 9.68 miles.

Mennonites Would Like to Stay

Reported to Have Asked Manitoba Government for Tract Of Land

Winnipeg, Man.—The Mennonite situation took a further new turn when it was learned that during the past few days, despite reports to the contrary, it has become evident that the Mennonites in Manitoba do not wish to leave the province, but would prefer to make a change in the location of their colony from the present well-settled district to some more remote portion.

They have asked the provincial government, it is stated, to go over the map of the province, and if a tract of country could be found where there would not be settlers and where settlers would not go because of the rigorous climate or the poorness of the land, to allow them to take it over with the privileges of education and religion which are denied them in their present location in southern Manitoba.

The Mennonites, it is declared, possibly have in mind the large tract of open country bordering on the Hudson's Bay. The provincial government, however, has not entertained for a moment any idea of such concessions.

Distribute Seed Grain

Requirements of Settlers in Alberta Have Been Supplied

Edmonton, Alta.—The distribution of seed grain for settlers' spring requirements throughout Alberta has now been completed, and the department of agriculture is calling in its field men. The total supplies of seed given out this season have not yet been tabulated, but it is estimated by officials of the department that they will represent a money value of close to $750,000, which is about twice the expenditure of last year and the largest of any one year since the government undertook this method of relief. All the grain thus supplied for seeding purposes has been Alberta grown.

Loan Farmers Seed Wheat

Winnipeg.—The provincial government has loaned the farmers of Manitoba a total of $250,000 to face this year for the purpose of seed wheat.

Among them are four U-boat commanders who have torpeded hospital ships; General Stenger, who is alleged to have ordered that wounded prisoners be shot, and officers "who carried out the command." Field-marshal Buslow, former commander of the second German army; General Von Below, General von Langemann, Prince Ernst of Saxony, and General Krieger, commander at the Kaiser's prison camp, are charged with spreading germs of typhus, while General Von Oven, former governor of Metz; General Scholtz, camp commander at Hoppenla; General Hoff and Dr. Michelson, are charged with killing, torturing and robbing prisoners. 42,920 Deaths From Consumption in Canada During Five Years

Ottawa.—Dr. D. C. Parfitt, Muskoka, and Col. W. A. Harrit, tubercular specialist, were called by the special committee on pensions in regard to tuberculosis among soldiers.

Dr. Parfitt said there were 35,684 Canadian soldiers killed in action in five years, while the number of deaths from tuberculosis in five years was 42,920.

There were 8,508 tubercular cases in the Canadian Expeditionary Force during five and three-quarter years to April 30, 1920. The incidence ratio per thousand in five years was 501. There had been an increase of incidence in the last two and a half years of 16 percent. The incidence ratio (crude) of tuberculosis per 1,100 enlisted men was 144 (fourteen decimal four) in 1919, compared with 140 among the British expeditionary force was 634 per 1,000 (six decimal fourteen). Incidence in Canadian expeditionary force was 120 percent greater than in British expeditionary force.

Sheriff Gets Ex-Kaiser

Imperial Throne and Trappings to be Sold by Auction in New York

New York.—The Imperial German throne is to be sold here at auction. The goods of the former emperor and his family, and former members of the German Imperial family, seized from the Imperial palaces of Berlin and Munich, for unpaid bills after the emperor abdicated and went to Holland, will be sold under the hammer here May 22 at one of the city's largest art galleries, it was announced.

Sixty-five pieces are in the Imperial collection, which was brought here two weeks ago by the purchaser and importer, Valdenar Pevelson. He declared he had considerable difficulty in getting an export permit from the German government which was against this, but he had promised to buy food with the net profits for resale in Germany.

Authenticity of the art objects is vouched for by one of Berlin's most reputable art firms.

Three complete suits with portraits embossed with German eagles, wall hangings, rugs made to order in the Orient for the former kaiser, and antiques which have belonged to the Imperial German and Bavarian families for centuries, are said to be included in the collection. These sets of furniture were in the collection of the throne of red plush, embroidered with Prussia eagles, also, are advertised for sale.

According to Mr. Pevelson, the ex-kaiser was not always prompt about paying his bills. Immediately upon his flight to Holland, his palace was exhausted and creditors seized household belongings in payment for the accounts.

Appeal Bill is Withdrawn

Harley Dewart Condemns Bill as the First Thing to Disrupt British Empire

Toronto.—Hon. W. E. Rance withdrew in the legislature his bill to abolish appeals to the privy council from Ontario.

He was asked by R. R. Hall, Parry Sound, if he considered this a self-governed country when the highest court of appeal was in England.

"I think you will soon see the governor-general appointed on the nomination or recommendation of the privy council of Canada," he said. H. H. Dewart condemned Mr. Rance's bill as the first thing to disrupt the British Empire. The right of appeal is the most sacred possession of Canadian citizens and he challenged Mr. Rance to show what right existed to take it away.

Mr. Rance said the right to appeal from the Canadian criminal code had been taken away. Why not, then, the right to appeal in litigation. Mr. Dewart said a former criminal lawyer had proven that criminal cases could be appealed to the privy council.

Sir Arthur Currie Appointed Principal Of McGill University

Montreal.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, who commanded the Canadian forces in Flanders, and who has been offered the post of principal of McGill University, has accepted the post. Sir Arthur Currie is at present inspector-general of Canadian militia.

The board of governors have appointed General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., D.S.O., principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University.

In offering Sir Arthur Currie the principality of McGill, the governors were influenced by the conviction that the university needs at the present time, above all other things, a principal with exceptional powers of organization and administration, and endowed with a tried capacity for inspiration and leadership. The sustained brilliancy of Sir Arthur Currie's record in the great war will always throw an added lustre upon the most glorious annals of the country. His achievement as general commander of the Canadian army won him a reputation unsurpassed, if not unrivalled, by that of any general in the British forces.

They were accomplished not alone by his skill as a soldier, but also by the patient, constructive and far-seeing qualities of a statesman with which he welded the Canadian units into an organization, which, we are proud to believe, was the best and most efficient army corps at the front. His war despatches were notable for their clearness and descriptive excellence, while his messages to the Canadian army were characterized by a loftiness of tone and a noble simplicity of utterance which attracted the admiration of all English-speaking peoples. The qualities which made him an incomparable organizer and a leader at the front fit him preeminently for the headship of a great Canadian university.

The appointment to the principality of one who, beyond six years' experience as a school teacher, is without academic affiliations may come as a surprise to some of the friends of McGill. But the governors were supported by the sanction of high educational authorities in inviting Sir Arthur Currie to accept the position.

"He was singled out and his appointment enthusiastically urged by Sir Auckland Geddes, and the suggestion was emphatically approved by the Master of Balliol and Professor W. G. S. Adams, fellow of All Souls, Oxford, who rank with the most eminent educationalists in the British Isles. The two high academic personages united with Sir Auckland in the belief that McGill would be singularly fortunate if it succeeded in securing Sir Arthur Currie's services and there is no one, either in Canada or Great Britain, whose name they could put alongside his for consideration."

A Better Understanding of the Responsibilities of Citizenship

(By Charles F. Davis)
A group of people went on a camping trip for a few weeks. Withdrawing themselves from intimate contact with the activities of the city, they formed for a time, a separate society; were in a position to try a social experiment.
From the moment of leaving the conventionalities and rules of society to which they were accustomed, each member of the group determined to make the outing productive of as much profit and employment to himself as possible. When ever camp was made, each sought the most pleasant spot available for the pitching of his tent. Each pressed for the most agreeable place near the campfire.
Each sought to avoid the discomforts and to enjoy the comforts of the new society. Selfishness and egotism furnished the motive for every act.

Before their return to "civilization" each of the group had come to feel that he had adopted a wrong course; had gone in the wrong direction to find happiness; that in mutual aid, in generous self-restraint, in active seeking to secure the greatest amount of pleasure to the whole group, would have been found the largest amount of personal satisfaction.

There is nothing new in this homely parable. It merely serves to illustrate the actual conditions in society as they exist today. Every man today seems seeking to gather to himself the fruits of his joint industry. In this period of reconstruction we should all bear in mind that we are all embarked upon a common enterprise, which can be brought to a successful issue only by each one thinking more of the great general result than of his individual gain; more of the general advancement of Canada than his own. It is necessary that each one should look upon his citizenship as a greater opportunity to forward the common good. Each one must come to understand the principle that he can continue to prosper only if all the group only prosper. Citizenship as it may appear, we must put a rational affection in the place of selfish egotism. We must recognize in the opportunity for service, the remedy for discouragement and discontent. We must attach much importance to group activities rather than to individual selfishness.

In our frequent discussions on the ignorant problems of the new era, we are seeking remedies that will enable each of us to make every personal advancement inherent in citizenship. If we wish to avoid the rock that stands threateningly before us, we must certainly change the course of the ship, and not simply pull out. "Full steam ahead."

An Obstacle to Marriage

Word has been received by the local issue of marriage licenses that the new regulations which increase the license fee to $5.00, and which affect persons under eighteen, who wish to be married, are effective as from May 1st. The old license fee was $2.00, of which the issuer got $1.00, and the government $2.00.
The issuer now gets $1.50 and the government $4.50.

Persons under eighteen who have been living apart from their parents for at least three months immediately prior to their application for licenses and have not been receiving financial assistance from their parents during this period, will be granted licenses to marry on the basis of getting proof that these conditions have obtained and on the applicant's signing affidavits. Persons under eighteen who are living at home and who wish to be married may submit their requests to judges of the supreme or district courts, who may, if they are satisfied that the requests are reasonable, issue permits which will entitle the applicants to receive licenses.

Well-founded rumor is current to the effect that a modern moving picture theatre is to be erected centrally on Victoria Street. The land has been purchased as a site, 60 x 115 feet, and work will commence very shortly. Adjoining the theatre will be a bright store, which will be rentable.

If you have not the force of character to make an enemy, you will never make a friend.

When Are Women "Grown?"

There is heavy loaded but effective British strategy in the action of the suffrage committee of the house of commons, which tabled the resolution to change the legal voting age for women from 30 years, as it is now, to 21 years, as it is for men. The assumption is that the feminine mind is much slower in reaching maturity than is the masculine mind, though the experience of the world teaches the contrary.

It is well known that ordinarily the girl of 16 has more real self-control and more capacity for influencing others than has the man of 21. Indeed the masculine judgment, based as it is by the rules of powerful passions, scarcely attains an even keel before 30, whereas the more placid feminine character enjoys judicial power in earlier years. To lose it, perhaps, later in the career of raising a family.

All this, doubtless, was known to the British statesmen. They, however, cannot beyond requiring. By granting women the franchise at 30, rather than at 21, they eliminate 5,000,000 feminine votes from the register and thus insure a substantial masculine majority. Further, they make it certain that the majority of women voters will be taxpayers of the established order and controlled, largely, by their husbands' interests, since women as a rule are married ere they are 30—if at all. And again, for the privilege of voting, what unmarried woman will admit being 30?

The British theory presumably works well for British interests, but one would be dubious about applying it to the United States. Indeed, such is the Americans' well-known devotion to the sex that they are likely to grant the franchise even to high school girls, who are known to be wiser than all their families put together, and to withhold it from men until they reach the age of 60 or thereabouts, which is the masculine age of discretion.—Chicago News.

An exchange says: When God gives a man a wife and six children, he has done a lot for a fellow, but when He gives him a society woman and a poodle dog, He has done him up. These society women look upon children as a nuisance. I wouldn't give one rock darnin' woman for all the society women in the country. Between cutting off the top of their dresses for the ball room, and bottom for the bicycle, these society women will soon not have any clothes. A man said to a society woman: "I hope I may see more of you." She then said: "Come to the ball or night." Your older sisters wear high collars round their necks—they are modest and comely, but deliver me from society women who button their collars round their waists.

There is no use wasting nice conversation on the man who won't listen to clean cut facts

"Then there is the suffering," she continued, after a pause. "I don't know why there is suffering, but I know if there were no suffering there would be no kindness. It is not until you are hurt, or begin to suffer, that you begin to think of other people. Until then all is selfishness. But we women—women of the world—we have nothing left to be selfish for. But we have the whole world to be unselfish for. It is never too late. It can never go back. We won't let it go back. We've paid too much to let it go back."

"It was hard to find a reply. 'I think I knew your husband, a little,' I ventured. 'He was a—man.' 'He was all that,' she said. She arose and stood for a moment in an attitude of hesitation; her fingers went to her lips as though enjoining caution. Then, with quick decision, she went into an inner room, from which she returned with a letter. 'If you knew him you may care to read this,' she said. 'It's very personal, and yet—some way, everything is impersonal now, in a sense. There has been such a common cause, and such a wave of common suffering, that it seems to flood out over the individual and embrace us all. Individualism is gone. It's the community now; the state; mankind; if you like, above everything. I suppose, so far as German Kultur stands for that, it has been imposed upon the world. . . . So is this really, in a sense, your letter as well as mine.'"

"I took it and read: 'I have had many letters to write since my service began as a nurse in the war, but never have I approached the task with such mixed emotions. The pain I must give you I would gladly bear myself if I could; but it is not all pain; underneath it, running through it in some way, is a pain, a note so much deeper than pain that it must be joy. You will already have been advised that David Elden was among those who fell at Corecote. It is true to say you have the sympathy of a grateful nation. How grateful the nation really is we shall know by its treatment of the heroes who survive the war, and of the dependents of those who have crossed over. But nothing can rob you of the knowledge that he played a man's part. Nothing can debar you from that universal fellowship of sympathy which is springing up wherever mankind is valued at its worth. A new Order has been born into the world; the order of suffering. Not that it is new, either; it has been with us since the first mother went into the shadow for her first child; but always suffering has been incidental; a matter of the individual; a thing to be escaped if possible. But now it is universal, a thing not to be escaped, but to be accepted, readily, bravely, even gladly. And all who so accept it enter in the new Order, and wear its insignia, which is unselfishness and sympathy and service. And in that order you shall not be least, measured by either your sacrifice or the spirit in which you accept it. But you are yearning for his last word; for some voice that will seem to you now almost a voice from the grave, and I am happy to be able to bring you that word. It was something more than chance guiding me that night, as it is every night. We were well behind the line of actual fighting, but still in the danger zone of artillery fire. Night had settled in; all was darkness save for occasional distant flares. I had become detached from my party in moving to another station; lost, if you like, yet not lost; never have I gone so directly to so great a destination. While trying to get my location, I became aware of a presence. It was a strange to you, but I became intensely aware of your presence. Of course I knew it could not be you, in the flesh, but you it seemed to me, nevertheless, I moved as though led by an invisible hand, and presently I found a bit of shattered wall. In the gloom I could just discern the form of a man lying in the shelter of the wall—if you could call it shelter—it rose scarce a foot above the ground.

"I knelt beside him and turned my torch onto his face. It was pale even through the brown skin; the eyes were closed; the hair was wet and was plastered on his forehead; there were smears of blood on his forehead, on his cheeks. As my light fell on his lips they framed a smile. 'Edith,' he said. 'It was good of you to come.' 'I am here, Dave,' I answered, and I think you will forgive me the imperfection. . . . Now let me find out just where you are hurt, and we'll fix you up, and get you moved presently.' He opened his eyes and looked at me with the strange look of a man who is not quite a time. 'Unparalleled. . . . Oh, it's you, Edith,' he said, when he had taken me in. 'Funny, I thought it was Irene. I must have been dreaming.' I questioned him again about his wound, and began feeling his hair. 'It's not there,' he said. 'Guess I got it all over my hands. They got me whenever I get conscious. I don't waste time on me. Some other fellow may have a chance.' I found, with a little examination, that the care was as bad as he had supposed. Fortunately the wound had induced a local paralysis, and he was not suffering any great pain. I placed my hand on his and felt his grip tighten on it. 'I'm going to stay 'till it's over, Dave. We'll see it out together.' That's decent,' he answered, and then still quite a time. 'I've often wondered what was on the other side,' he said at length. 'I don't know. I don't know. I don't know. You are not afraid?' I whispered. 'No. Only sort of—curious. And whenever I get conscious, I see you now. I haven't been much on my feet. Never seemed to get the formula. That's the formula. That's the key—the thing that gives it all in one word.' 'In one word—sacrifice.' 'I walked out of Corecote once because of some doctrine about sacrifice,' he continued. 'I couldn't go. . . . And yet—there may be something in it. It's sacrifice here, Edith. War is sacrifice. Sacrifice for other people. It's not all on the surface. There's something deeper than we know.' 'He lost his life this time,' I said. 'I quoted. He did not answer, but I could see his lips quivering again. His breath was more labored. A few drops of rain fell, and some of them splattered on his face. 'I'm not afraid,' he said. 'It was an eerie sensation, out on that broad plain of death, alone by the side of this man who was already far into the shadow—to hear him chuckle. 'That splash of water—you remember it made me think of the time we pulled the old car to the stream, and the harness broke, or something, and had to carry you. You remember that Krenke? I can only say 'Yes,' and press his hand. His mind was back on the old trails. 'He became suddenly sober. 'And when Brownie was killed,' he went on, 'I said it was the innocent thing that got caught. Perhaps I was right. But perhaps it's best to be caught. Not for the getting caught, but for the—the compensation. It's the innocent men that are getting killed. And perhaps it's best. Perhaps there are compensations worth while.' His voice was weaker, and I had to lean close to catch his words. 'I'm going—out,' he said. 'Kiss me, Edith.' And then I kissed him—for you. 'The mountains!' he exclaimed, and his voice was a thrill with the pride of his old hills. 'See the moonlight—on the mountains!'

Then his strength, which seemed to have gathered itself for this one last vision of the place of his boyhood, gave way, and he fell back. And he did not speak more. And what can I add? Dear, it is not defeat. It is promise. It is hope. Some day we shall know. But until then we shall go on. It is woman's bit to carry on. But not in despair.

ency; not in bitterness; not in anger or despair. He didn't go out that night. He was reverent—and a little curious, and he went out with a smile. And, as he shall go on and on, his smile and his confidence through the valley of our sacrifice. What am I doing, speaking of our sacrifice? I salute you, sister in the Order of Suffering—and of Hope.

I handed the letter back to her and for a time I had no words. 'Won't you let me tell the story?' I said at length. 'The world is full of sorrow words, and perhaps turn it to hope—as this letter does.' She hesitated, and I realized then how much I had asked. 'It is the story of my life—my soul,' she said. 'Yet, if it would help—' 'Without names of places or people.'

And so, in that little white-washed room where the brown hills rise around and the placid mountains look down from the distance, and a tongue of spruce trees beyond the prairie, she is carrying on, not in dependency or bitterness, but in service and in hope. And so her sisters, all this world over, must carry on, until their sweetness and their sacrifice shall fill up and flood over all the valleys of hate. And if you should chance that way, and if you should win the confidence of young three-year-old, he may stand for you and say, with his voice filled with the honor and the glory and the pride of it, 'My father was a soldier. He was killed at Corecote.'

Political Picnic Revived

The coming summer will see a revival of the old-time political picnic. Leaders of the United Farmers of Ontario, the party now in power here, are already laying plans for these outdoor gatherings where political questions are thrashed out. Headquarters of the United Farmers of Ontario in Toronto have already received many requests for speakers for picnics in June.

ERNEST SMITH TALKS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Quebec Man Grateful for the Benefit He Has Received, Pays Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Grand Palais, West Quebec, May 17th.—(Special.)—Mr. Ernest Smith, a well-known and respected resident here, is one of the many who have abiding faith in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for sick kidneys.

"I have suffered from my kidneys," Mr. Smith says, "and I read that Dodd's Kidney Pills were good. I tried them. They have helped me so much that I will continue to use them when my kidneys trouble me. The kidneys require constant attention if good health is to be maintained and serious disease averted off. The kidneys perform a most important work in the human system. They strain all the impurities; all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. When they are weak and unable to do their work the system clogs and sickness is the inevitable result. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for weak, disordered or diseased kidneys."

Submarines Losing Their Efficiency

Advantage Previously Possessed Now Steadily on the Wane

Submarines have lost two-thirds of their efficiency since 1914, according to Lieut. W. S. King-Hall, R.N., in a recent address at the Royal United Service Institute on "The Submarine and Future Naval Warfare."

The speaker maintained that the advantage previously possessed by the submarine was steadily on the wane. Whereas at the beginning of the war in 1914 it was as nine to one against the surface ship, it was only seven to three in 1919 and was likely to be only six to seven in 1930. He was of the opinion that within the next few years there would be a great development of submarine detecting apparatus which would give large and important ships a certain measure of protection against tactical attack by submarines.

He regarded as impracticable the proposal that battleships should be made submersible. He ventured the opinion that the use of gas might eventually revolutionize naval warfare much as gunpowder did when it was first introduced. It might be discharged with deadly effect on an enemy coastline. It was actually suggested during the German occupation that the Belgian coast should be "gassed," but the plan was abandoned in deference to Belgium's susceptibility.

Watches vary, but the average number of different parts is said to be 175. To manufacture a watch it has been estimated involves no less than 2,100 separate and distinct operations.

Fire Prevention Campaign Among Farmers

Saskatchewan Fire Commissioner Issues Special Instructions For Farm Houses

A special appeal is being made by Arthur E. Fisher, fire commissioner for Saskatchewan, to the farmers of the province to assist in reducing the fire losses by observing the spring cleanup movement. These suggestions will apply to the West generally.

"There is no class of people to whom fire prevention should appeal more than the farmers, who carry losses in mutual companies, as their premium notes are assessed in direct proportion to the losses sustained by the company," said Mr. Fisher. "In brief," he added, "the smaller the losses the less money they will be obliged to pay under the mutual system to indemnify those who have suffered losses."

Mr. Fisher announced the following as urgent suggestions which would appeal particularly to the farmers:

The barn is no place for the automobile. Build a garage. Conserve your water supply. You may have drought or fire and need the surplus.

A pipe, cigar or cigarette has no place in the barn. Neither have greasy rags nor old coats with matches in the pockets.

Buy a fire extinguisher, but place it where you can get at it in case of fire, and see that it is frequently inspected.

Have two ladders long enough to reach the eaves of your tallest building. Keep gasoline away from buildings and preferably underground.

Four ounces of common baking soda per gallon of water makes a splendid fire extinguisher. Four ounces of salt per gallon will keep water barrels from freezing except in extreme weather.

Keep your eye open for spontaneous combustion fires in wet grain, feed or hay.

Do not stack so that a fire will spread to your buildings. Keep straw and hay, etc., at a safe distance.

Allow no weeds or grass to grow about the buildings.

Put up "no smoking" signs about the barns and other buildings. We can supply you for nothing. Write for them.

Keep your matches in a metal box away from children.

Examine chimneys and stoves frequently.

Most losses on farm property are due to these causes, given alphabetically: adjoining buildings, ashes, children, defective fires and fire places, stoves and stove pipes, hay, light, wiring, matches, rubbish and sparks. Carelessness figures in all.

The oldest, largest and most important manufactory of automobiles in Barcelona, Spain, has an annual output of 2,000 cars.

A Famous Motor Boat

Attains A Speed of Forty Knots With Full Armament and Crew

At the recent motor boat exhibition in London, England, the most attractive exhibit was the famous coastal motor boat C.M.B.4, from the Baltic after many cruises, during which she passed through lines of forts and torpedoed the Bolshevik cruiser Oleg. This vessel is a skimover or hydroplane of the type invented before the war for sporting purposes. It attains a speed of 40 knots with full armament and crew. The show contained many British examples of small auxiliary motors, which can be attached to rowing boats and other small craft. Some of these are installed on board and others are attached to the stern without struts, to that imaginary pattern, with an engine rated at 2 to 3 horse power, weighs only 60 lbs. complete with propeller and steering gear.

Historic Firth of Forth

Within Great Expense Whole Fleet May Ride at Anchor

The Firth of Forth is, of course, one of the most notable things in all Scotland. From Kincardine, where it officially begins, to that imaginary line just west of the Isle of May from the East Neuk of Fife to the mouth of the Tyne, in Haddingtonshire, where it officially ends, it is a distance of 48 miles; while from shore to shore the expanse of water measures anything from one and a half miles, at Queensferry, to seventeen and a half miles off the Isle of May. Within this great expanse of water whole fleets may ride at anchor in perfect safety, and although little is known of the great scenes which must have taken place in these waters during the last four years, the story of the Firth of Forth during the great war, culminating at it did recently in the surrender there of the German high sea fleet, will not be the least interesting of the many stories which still remain to be written.

Canada's Dairy Products

According to statistics issued by the department of conservation during the past year, the Dominion's total dairy products were worth approximately $250,000,000, and of this amount $65,000,000 was received for export trade. In 1910 the total was less than $100,000,000, and the export trade was $24,000,000, an increase in nine years of over 150 percent. In all branches of the industry the producer and consumer reached new records.

Canadians Praised by General Townshend

Eulogized the Canadian Corps As a Fighting Machine

A high tribute to the gallantry of the Canadian Corps was paid by Major-General Sir Charles Townshend at a luncheon given in his honor by the Canadian Club in New York City. He eulogized the Canadian Corps as a fighting machine, and in the course of his address referred to the fact that one of his ancestors fought in Canada during the early troublous pioneer days there.

There was enthusiastic cheering as the "Hero of Kut" arose to speak. He gave a graphic account of the advance on Baghdad, the retreat in the face of the overwhelming Turkish force, and the subsequent prolonged and heroic defense of Kut, followed by the surrender to the Turks.

General Townshend paid a high tribute to the treatment accorded to him by the Turks during the two years he was a prisoner in Constantinople, but he said that he nearly went mad at his enforced inactivity when all his heart was on the western front, where he longed to be. Finally when at last he reached Paris and hoped to take a hand in military events, the armistice was on the point of being signed.

Growth and Nationality Of Canada

Canada Has Grown in Nation Consciousness and in National Strength

"Canada has achieved nationality though her citizens have never pitched into the harbor," said Lieut.-Col. J. A. Cooper, Canadian Representative at New York, in an address to the City College at the public library there. After reviewing Canada's history and development in a general way, Col. Cooper concluded as follows: "Canada is now completing the 53rd year of her history as a Dominion. In 1867, the year of confederation, her area was 377,000 square miles while today it is 3,729,000, or ten times as great. In 1867 her population was 4,500,000, as compared to 9,000,000, which is the estimate today. In 1870 her total production of wheat was sixteen million bushels, as compared with 393,000,000 bushels in 1915, the banner wheat year to date. Her export forest products have grown from an average value of $40,000,000 to an average of $150,000,000.

"While these are the material results of Canada's first half century they do not tell the whole story. Canada has also grown in national consciousness and in national strength. Retaining her heritage of British institutions and British courage and British love of law and order she exhibits to the world today a natural stability and a national cohesion that is unsurpassed by any other people in the world.

"Finally, Canada has always laid stress on individual character as well as national integrity. Whenever Canadians have gone to settle or to trade they have spread the fame of a people whose love of honesty and truth is of the highest standard.

Heavy Horses Are Again in Demand

Transport Companies Consider Horse For a Five-mile Head Chaper Than A Motor Car

J. L. Dougherty, representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture in Kent County, in an interview points out that there is a good future in breeding of heavy horses, he says: "For a few years past prices for heavy horses has not been remunerative to the breeder, hence there has been a marked decrease in the number of good heavy horses to be had. This scarcity, coupled with the fact that transport companies have found out that the horse for a five mile haul and under is cheaper than the motor-car, is resulting in increased demand and good prices for first-class sound, heavy horses with good feed and plenty of bone of good quality."

"April 22nd" issue of the "Breeder's Gazette," published in Chicago, contains the following information relative to the horse industry: "The Consumers Co., of Chicago, gave an order ten weeks ago for two hundred and twenty head of heavy horses weighing 1600 pounds and over for which they are willing to pay full market price. Notwithstanding the fact that since the time when the Consumers Co. placed their order weekly receipts at the Chicago Markets have run from 800 to 1,200 head, this company has purchased only 60 head. There are scores of other concerns in Chicago and in every city in America in a similar situation. They fully understand now the advantages that would accrue to them from the use of horses rather than trucks in the conduct of their business departments. The same issue contains the information that a pair of geldings came into the Chicago market last week which cost the buyer $1,350. In the country, farmers would be well advised to resume the breeding of first class heavy horses."

World's Greatest Crisis

Red Cross League Faced With A Gigantic Task in Europe

Raymond B. Fosdick, formerly of Buffalo, and for a time acting as the undersecretary-general of the League of Nations, and who returned from Europe a few weeks ago, says in a communication to the New York Times:

"No one who has been abroad in recent months, in contact with the situation in countries like Poland, Austria, Hungary, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia, can escape the belief that Europe is plunging to a catastrophe—besides which political questions such as boundaries and indemnities are insignificant. So far from getting on their feet, these countries are sinking in a quagmire of non-production, starvation and disease, which only the united efforts of the rest of the world can keep from spreading."

"It is Mr. Fosdick's conviction that 'Europe faces a catastrophe of appalling proportions, measurable in anarchy and loss of life on a scale hitherto undreamed of.' This accorded in substance with the statements recently made by Henry P. Davidson, formerly chairman of the war council of the American Red Cross and now chairman of the general council of the Red Cross League, which embraces the Red Cross Societies of twenty-seven nations.

The general council of the Red Cross League declares that 'any voluntary aid task become effective can only follow the provision of such essentials as food, clothing and transportation, which must be given if the people are to live and be restored to a condition of self-support, and the need of which is so vast that it cannot be given by voluntary organizations, but must be supplied by governments.

Being a 'quitter' so far as co-operating with the League of Nations is concerned, the United States as a government is now facing the question of co-operating with the Red Cross League of the world in the rescue work of saving tens of millions of men, women and children from a death by famine and anarchy.—Buffalo Courier.

Rural Telephone Construction in Alberta

Seventy-five Hundred Miles of New Lines Being Built this Year

Tenders for the construction of 2,500 miles of rural and toll telephone lines in Alberta, have been called for. This is the second telephone contract that will have been let this year, the first being for some 5,000 miles of long distance circuits, the work on which is now almost completed. It is expected that tenders will also be called this summer for still further construction of rural telephone lines.

EARLY SYMPTOMS OF BLOODLESSNESS

Shown by Pallor of the Face and Lips—How to Obtain New Blood Anemia, or lack of blood is so gradual in its approach that it is often long before the patient is sufficiently alarmed to consult a doctor or take proper treatment to restore the blood to a healthy condition.

The earliest symptom of anemia is that of pallor, especially in the lips, gums and membranes lining the eyelids. Then comes shortness of breath on slight exertion, such as going upstairs, palpitation of the heart, increased pallor of the face and lips. If this condition is not corrected it will proceed rapidly until a complete breakdown in health follows, when there may be disorders of the stomach, headaches and backaches, dizziness and fainting spells. The most effective and prompt way to increase and enrich the blood at a time like this is through the fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have been restored to good health thousands of weak, anemic people, among them Miss Mae Johnston, of Fort Arthur, who says: "Between the ages of sixteen and eighteen I worked in a telephone office, and it was very trying to the nerves and health. I became bloodless, and so pale that friends often said I looked consumptive. One night I had to be taken home from the office, and a doctor was called in who told me I must not work any more. Sometimes I would faint, and to walk up the stairs would leave me utterly breathless. As if this thing of the blood in my system was not enough, I was suffering from one of my girls friends, whose mother had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with great benefit, I decided to try these. I took the pills very faithfully for some time, with the result that one night I had to be taken home from the office, and a doctor was called in who told me I must not work any more.
